This is Zoey. She really likes the planet. Would hate to see willful ignorance and the denial of fairly elemental science destroy it. 13/10

Let's have a look who Zoey is and why a golden retriever like her receives such a highest number of favorites counts. She is such cute little dog, absolutely deserves the top favorite in golden retriever breed 😊

There is a strong correlation between retweet count and favorite count. Therefore, to increase the top traffic to the page, we should consider popping up some either high retweet or high favorite.

The strong positive correlation (0.93) between retweet count & favorite count.
